CENTRAL DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME begins at 2 a.m., Sunday morning. Most folks set their clocks ahead before retiring for the night but others leave it until morning and use it as an excuse to be late for work. Anyway, as Fran Sallinger demonstrates, according to officialdom, at 2 a.m. everybody should get up and crank their clock hands forward one hour. In this way you miss about two hours of sleep. One you lose cranking the clock and the other trying to get back to sleep knowing you will feel like it is still too soon to get up when the alarm clock sounds off.

Claim session overdue Coaches, school board resolve differences

BY JAKE JACOB

Held at the 10 yard line by strong school board blockers, the Hancock County coaches came back with two or three quick arguments on Tuesday, swept aside opposition and scored a renewal of their contract for the 1977-78 school year.

The hiring bowl game was organized last week. School board member Woodrow Ladner, backed by Louie Ladner and Oris Ladner, called a halt to blanket certified school personnel rehires, even though such recommendations had been submitted by the principals and approved by the system's superintendent Terrell Randolph.

Ladner called the play after stating that too many kids had been stomped on at North Central and additionally claiming the existence of an over-emphasis on athletic vs. academics at the county educational plant.

The score after Tuesday's match was: coach rehires, 9; board firings, zero.

After questions concerning the introduction of needlework into a geometry class were satisfactorily drop-kicked for yardage, the punter, Carol Page, was hired back in the end sweep which included all the coaches, but excluded two other members of the North Central faulty team, Rabekah Kennedy, counselor; and Barbara Kinnebrew, librarian.

Both were ultimately rehired on a three to two pass play which put Woodrow Ladner and Oris Ladner on the field as blockers, faced by a running line of Johnny Banks, Louie Ladner, and Team Captain Monvel Cueyas. Play ended with both sides agreeing it had been a worthwhile thing and all

Janitorial flush sought for Hawk gym restrooms

BY JAKE JACOB

The public restrooms inside the "Home of the Hawks" at Hancock North Central School, were described on Tuesday as being a health hazard.

The Hancock County School Board also learned that the situation was liable to get worse before it gets better should they not readjust their budget to provide for janitorial service inside the gymnasium.

The school, wrestling with problems almost beyond its capability to solve without further funds, has seen its janitorial force cut from six to four, and now faces an additional slash of work-force.

"We have been trying to get by with four janitors where we had six and now, due to lack of funds, we are losing two more at the end of April," James O'Hara, principal, told his board.

He said the gymnasium situation was "terrible" but his hopes of alleviating it by utilizing NYC workers had proved futile.

"You have to hire five men to supervise three kids. It just didn't work out," O'Hara said.

"With the janitors we have left we are concentrating on keeping the classroom areas clean, along with those other areas mostly frequented by the students."

Board member Oris Ladner said he had seen Coach Roland Ladner cleaning up the gymnasium after school hours in an effort to get the worst of the trash out of the way.

"If we cannot afford to keep the gymnasium clean then we should close it down," Oris Ladner said.

Coach Ladner said additional problems have constantly arisen due to the building being constantly in use. This as with only one gymnasium for the elementary, junior high, and high school students, the schedules are tight and back to back.

"When we had a janitor attached to the gym it wasn't much better as her services were beyond our control," the coach said.

The obstetrical department at Hancock General Hospital has once again closed its doors.

Council orders removal of controversial mobile home

BY JERRY WHITTLE

A mobile home, apparently in violation of the Bay St. Louis Zoning Ordinance, continues to cause a great deal of controversy among residents of Green Meadow Road, the City Council, Planning and Zoning Commission and the owner of the mobile home.

The matter arose once again Monday morning at the regular meeting of the council and following a lengthy discussion the council passed a motion giving the owner 10 days in which to remove the mobile home.

The motion followed a report from J. Alvin Triche, Jr., newly elected Chairman of the P and Z Commission. He was joined at the council meeting by John Chevis, one of several citizens who voiced their objections to the location of the mobile home at the April 7th meeting of the P and Z Commission.

Following several minutes of discussion, Commissioner Lucien Kidd made a motion to serve the owner, Edward Polillon, with a notice that the mobile home should be moved.

Commissioner Larry Bennett stated he would second the motion, but felt a definite time should be included in the motion. Kidd then said, "Im-

School calendars may undergo radical changes

BY JAKE JACOB

School calendars in Hancock County may undergo some radical changes over the next few years, according to John L. Hartman, executive director, Mississippi School Boards Assn., of Jackson.

Hartman, here last week to discuss the feasibility of his organization's compiling a set of school board policies for the county system, and explain the impact of late legislation concerning school operations, dropped several "bombshells" in his half hour presentation.

Other than the possible violent shift in traditional school attendance and class time, Hartman outlined the minimum program bill with its record appropriation provisions; the new federal statutes concerning special education classes; problems and solutions under the Fair Dismissals Act; legal advantages of the board computing and adopting the policies manual.

Spiraling utilities costs plus the return of cold weather to much of the country, including northern Mississippi, granted schools two additional weeks of emergency leave to run in conjunction with the Christmas recess. This to put the students at home during at least some of the cold weather in act resulting in reduced attendance failures, due to poor road, power cut-backs or failures, adverse weather conditions, and the like, plus a massive saving in heat and lighting costs.

"One school in Mississippi had a gas bill of $5,400 for just one month of operations this year.

"This was brought about by a combination of cold weather and their having to purchase gas from a company which was running over allotment resulting in an added penalty to schools in the state.

"This concept of mid-year school closing may be expanded here as some of the eastern and northern states are now being forced to close from mid-

December to Feb. 1, for the same reasons.

Further, Hartman explained, the new minimum program funding bill packs a one-two punch with its insistence that a school day, to be counted a school day must be 60 percent or more of class time, as well as spelling out new definitions for administrators to be paid under its terms.

"Too often schools have counted a day when in effect they dismissed school after a few minutes of operation due to weather or alternate cause," Hartman said.

He said that future school calendars must reflect the changing times and incorporate enough extra days for these eventualities.

"To count, the school year must contain a minimum of 175 actual school

Appraisal requested

BY JAKE JACOB

The Pearl River Basin Development District's (PRBDD) McLeod Park on Texas Flat Road, immediately north of Stennis International Airport, will undergo an audit of its facilities as the result of a motion made Monday by Supervisor James Travirca of Beat 5.

Travirca, last month called for an investigation of the park's financing by the office of Governor Cliff Finch.

Travirca, at that time, said that the project has had about $250,000 worth of Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR) and PRBDD funds allocated and only about $50,000 worth of work could be seen.

Alvin Beck, executive director of PRBDD, said earlier this month that he would welcome such an investigation. He also claimed the park would be ready for occupancy given two weeks of dry weather.

The appraisal to be conducted by an architect, Fred Wagner, and the county engineer, Lawrence L. Seal, will itemize such park features as the pavilion ball park, picnic area, roads, piers, boat launch, restrooms, and the like.

In other business, the supervisors filed into their minutes a copy of a letter written by Seal to Alabama Waterproofing Co. concerning the status of work on the Kiln-DeLisle Road. Alabama Waterproofing is prime contractor on the project.

Seal states that the road is dry

Man's body recovered after Saturday mishap

A boating mishap about three miles out from Waveland beach on Saturday resulted in the drowning of one man and a close call for a brother and sister.

The body of the victim, Cary Landry, 29, of Gonzales, La., washed ashore Tuesday at Buccaneer State Park, after being in the water for nearly three days.

The brother and sister were Robert and Ann DeBlanc, 21 and 23 respectively, children of Mr. and Mrs. James DeBlanc of Waveland.

According to late reports, Landry only recently came to the area with his parents who are spending their first season in a new summer home.

Prompt action by the pilot of a private plane is credited with saving the life of Miss DeBlanc who stayed with the boat after it capsized during her attempts to return to the accident scene. Robert DeBlanc, who began to swim for shore, was picked up about half a mile off the beach by Herbert Peterson. He was still wearing the life preserver thrown by his sister prior to the boat turning over.

The three had set sail earlier in the afternoon. Landry was reportedly asked by DeBlanc if he could swim. After replying "Yes, but not very well," he was advised to don a life-jacket, but declined saying, "Oh, I'll be alright."

DeBlanc, realizing his friend's swimming limitations promptly dove into the water to assist.

The girl, meanwhile, brought the boat about and headed down onto the pair, working the speeding craft with one hand while flinging life preservers to them as fast as she could with the other.

Miss DeBlanc stayed with the overturned boat.

The pilot of a private plane flying overhead at the time of the incident realized the predicament faced by the

He serves as vice president of the Bay Catholic Elementary Parent-Teacher Organization, is presently a member of Our Lady of the Gulf's Parish Council, and has served as player agent for the Babe Ruth League in Bay St. Louis.

Thriffley is married to the former Jean Ann English of Arabi and they have three sons, Jimmy, Todd, and Jon Tate. Thriffley said, "I am interested in getting our economy moving and hope to promote and to stimulate business by making the business district more appealing through a general clean up program to emphasize the uniqueness and beauty of our city. survivors and he flew to a motor-sailing vessel operating in the vicinity. Unable to contact the boat by radio, he chalked "Follow Me" on a slate, then flew low and close enough to the boat for it's crew to read the message and respond.

They found Miss DeBlanc and the catamaran, but were unable to locate her brother.

Now alerted, also through the plane's efforts, the civil defense, joined in the search...now expanded to include boats, helicopters, and aircraft.

They located DeBlanc, but Landry had apparently drowned. Rough water registered nursing staff prevented continuation of the search Monday after Sunday's effort proved fruitless.

The Rocks tallied 62½ points in the conference meet followed by Pass Christian with 44½ points. Vanceave was next with 42, Notre Dame had 32, East Central 30½, d'Iberville 18½, St. Martin 18 and St. John one.

To illustrate the heart and competitive greatness of the Rocks during the conference meet was to watch Steve Longo in the 880 run who gave out of gas before reaching the finish line and dove the last five yards to be first. Additionally, Paul Brown placed first in the 120 H.H., 440 yd. dash and ran a leg on the mile relay and Martin Hoda who came in first in the 220 yd. dash, ran the last leg on the 880 yd. relay and ran the 100 yd. dash.

Paul Brown and Gordon Boh set a new school record in the 120 yd. High Hurdler. The old record was 16.8, Boh ran a 16.1 this past season and Brown a 16.0. Martin Hoda has an excellent chance to break the school records in this 100 yd. dash and 220 yd. dash in the district track meet which will be held in Moss Point this week.

In conclusion, the Rocks took the ingredients of industriousness, friendship, cooperation, enthusiasm and competitive greatness and came up with success.

Tigers win two in a row

After starting the week with a 1-12 record the Tigers of Bay High coached by Claude Yarbrough sprang to life to take two decisive wins on Monday and Tuesday.

In Monday's game the Tigers tripped the Notre Dame Rebels by a score of 8-4 as Frank Henry went the distance scattering eight hits, allowing only one earned run, striking out five, and not giving up any free bases via the walk.

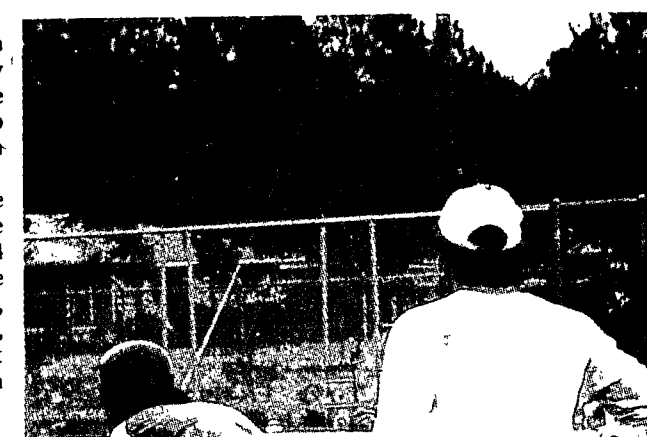

Frank Henry, Roy Ruhr, Davey Smith, and Louis Dunkin provided the hits for the Tigers.

Tuesday night's game the Tigers whipped the visitors from St. John by a score of 10-5.

Ricky Hardie did his thing by coming off the bench to pinch hit with a triple with the bases loaded in the fifth to drive home all three runs. Ivan Cobb also knocked in three runs.

Ricky Manieri started the game and went seven innings for the victory. He only allowed one base runner to reach first by the walk.

Bay High 3-12 will play at 4 p.m. today against Pass Christian. The game is slated for Tiger field.

days," he allowed, adding, "Schools using the long winter recess plan have to extend class days through June."

Describing the administrative qualification change as being "...pretty significant..." Hartman said that anyone who is to be paid under the minimum program must teach at least four classes a day.

Concerning dismissals under the new legislation, the school board's association director said that from here on in the rules more generally employed for Workman's Compensation cases and the like would be utilized at hearings. This, he said would overcome the almost virtually impossible conditions of procedure to be followed under existing legislation where "legalize" had ruled the day - and the hearings, making it virtually impossible to dismiss an incompetent employee.

Further, he said, the school board need not hear all the cases, but can instead appoint a hearing officer who makes his recommendations directly to them.

Following some further elaboration on the record $278 million appropriation made by the legislature for the school's minimum program funding, an amount which includes pay hikes of $800 per teacher plus other benefits resulting in a raise per teacher closer to $1000; Hartman dwelt at length on the requirements for special education.

This phase of his delivery was of extreme interest to the Hancock School Board who face a cutback of both federal and state funds unless they mainstream the Clermont Harbor students onto the main campus. Clermont Harbor School has, for years, housed the special education program for the southern half of the county.

Hartman said under the new federal statutes the local school systems are responsible for special education students from 3 to 21 and further that these students have to be provided "...all kinds of special educational services."

These services include special kinds of buses, wheel chair ramps in the schools, and the like, but most of all the program will require people qualified to do the work.

He said the services required by the new federal laws, will result in the cost of teaching special education students to rise to a level three to four times greater than the average student - a situation that may force school systems to diminish services to the rest of their enrollment to enable the footing of the bill.

When asked where the money was to come from Hartman said that no provisions for additional financing had been established. He said that although the question of forming special school districts for the purpose of providing special education had been discussed, the direction of emphasis was on mainstreaming the students concerned.

Switching to the school board policy manual, school trustees authorized payments of $4840 to the association for its preparation.

The system decision to have the school boards' association prepare the manual was based on Hartman's outlining the proposed contents, the expertise of his staff in preparing like manuals elsewhere for other systems, and a comparative cost breakdown should the board prefer to undertake such a venture utilizing their own personnel.

The manual will come from the research of board minutes, the comparison with existing and new enabling legislation, and a check to determine non-conflict with applicable statutes.

The policy manual will be available to principals, teachers, and other interested parties, and will be used as a base for all board school operating decisions.

Hartman stressed the importance of the manual to school board members when he said, "The responsibility behind the adoption of this manual is a serious one."

"You (the board) make the laws for the operation of your school district and you have to consider the contents of this manual at all times in so doing."

"You won't be able to ignore one of your own policies because of any emotional issues involved in any future issues."

Board member Woodrow Ladner endorsed Hartman's reasoning saying, "We can't expect due process in court unless we have these policies in full effect."

"They must be written in a language all the people affected by them can understand."

In other matters the school board took under advisement the proposed 1977-78 school year calendar having a built-in five day leeway; approved a field outing for the North Central band, April 24 through 27 during which time the musicians will visit Disney world; ok'd $205 worth of aid between the students attending the State Science Fair at Ole Miss, and the Driver's Ed. contest finals; accepted a substitute list of teachers for Charles B. Murphy School, Pearlington; approved for the C. B. Murphy School principal, James Baldree, to rework his schedules to better synchronize the arrival and departure of senior high students school bus; heard Baldree express his disappointment at the class books for 1977; approved the application for permission to purchase one new school bus from 16th Section land monies.

Library Week opens with clanging of horseshoes

On the sidelines

Bennett shows form

The great horseshoe pitching caper came to a clanging stop Saturday with a final score of Team A, 32½; Team X, 32½.

The final team result turned out to be not too important as nobody knew to which they belonged.

The whole thing was run in conjunction with other, more reliable, National Library Week kick-off field day activities.

Forced entrants and winners of the horseshoe thing along with a brief listing of their losing counterparts, were: Mayor Warren Carver of Bay St. Louis defeated Mayor John Longo, Jr. of Waveland; Ron Johnson of Radio WPUP, defeated Larry Nash of the Sea Coast Echo; Lucien Kidd, Utilities Commissioner, Bay St. Louis defeated Larry Bennett, Finance Commissioner; Rev. Charles Johnson, Christ Episcopal, defeated Rev. Gregory Johnson of OLG - in the run-off, Msgr. Gregory Johnson of OLG, defeated Msgr. Charles Johnson of Christ Episcopal.

In the volleyball tilts, United Media defeated Junior Auxiliary; Rotary defeated Community Volunteers; Friends of the Library defeated the Garden Club (just barely); EYC defeated CYO.

Checker games ran on, and on, and on, and on, and on, and nobody ever did find out who won but, at least they were played hard.

Children's activities were categorized into preschool, first to third-grade, fourth, sixth, and over sixth. Action here included egg throw, sack races, three-legged races, broad jump, and balloon blowing contests.

Library sources, spokespersons and the like, said this week in a prepared release and over the telephone, that local pharmacies reported an overnight sales boom in liniment as the result of field day activities.

APPRAISAL

enough to "vigorously prosecute the project to completion."

Further, the county engineer makes six recommendations the last being a request the contractor "recommence full-strength operations immediately."

The other items include recommendations: that a superintendent with experience in that particular type of road construction be hired; that topping washed into ditches be reclaimed; that additional clay-gravel be put in place in at least one location; that failure of samples may result in their determining the need for additional gravel; that arrangements should be made immediately to "complete the overlay section including gridding."

Attorney for the Hancock County Planning Commission, John Scaffie III, delivered a copy of a resolution passed by that group, recommending the county adopt the new federal minimum requirements for flood control ordinances. This move is required of governmental units participating in the federally subsidized flood insurance program.

One of the major changes in the new guidelines is a requirement that all mobile homes moving into the county must be elevated to 13.1 feet above sea level.

Facing the alternative of losing the insurance if they did not endorse the guidelines, supervisors approved their adoption and ordered the clerk to advertise its contents in a local newspaper.

After approving payment of $490 to Dillman, Inc. of Bay St. Louis for installation of a new roof on the airport administration building at Stennis Field, supervisors gave the nod to a lease and option to purchase agreement between the county and W. C. Hockett Sandblasting on Lott 5A at Port Bienville Industrial Park, site of the former Jackson Landing Shipyard. The new concern intends to employ about 30 people over the first six months to engage in topside barge repairs, moving into complete barge refurbishment in about a year.

Wilson W. Webre, port director, then presented an involved three-part, triple resolution packet for supervisor approval.

Under its terms, should each stage be satisfactorily concluded, the county will purchase the old Coastal Millwork Building from the Small Business Administration for $225,000; to raise the money the port and harbor commission will transfer $75,000 from its ad valorem bond interest fund and borrow $150,000 from the Hancock Bank; Halter Marine will sign a three year lease agreement with purchase option with the county for the building and grounds. Halter, if the deal works out, will utilize the premises for construction of fibre glass boats.

In other matters the board authorized Gulf Regional Planning Commission to apply for a government grant for the purpose of removing some 1300 pilings off the beach.

COACHES

Three coaches and three faculty members of Hancock North Central School, plus their principal, James O'Hara, met with the Hancock County School Board on Tuesday, in an effort to resolve differences and answer questions concerning their employment understandings. All were rehired following the session as were six other members of the coaching staff.

The meeting stemmed from a session last week when one of the board, Woodrow Ladner, backed by Louie Ladner and Oris Ladner, overrode the objections of board prexy Monvel Cuevas and member Johnny Banks, in seeking the session.

Three of the school's nine coaches were present, Roland Ladner, mathematics teacher and head boys' basketball coach; Charles Grantham, social studies teacher, and Irvin Favre, driver's education and head football coach.

Also in attendance were Rebekah Kennedy, student counselor; Barbara Kinnebrew, librarian; and Carol Page, mathematics.

Prior to opening the floor for questions from his board Cuevas called upon both the teachers and Principal James O'Hara whether or not they wished the meeting to remain open to the public or go into executive session.

After looking round the meeting room, which had filled with a number of interested persons, Coach Roland Ladner led the "open meeting" request by saying that as the request for their appearance had already appeared in the newspaper he wanted it left for the public to hear. The balance of those present and involved readily agreed with this request.

Woodrow Ladner led off by explaining that the meeting had been called by his request but that he did not intend it to be one of condemnation but instead, a meeting of clarification.

He issued a plea of the faculty that animosities be kept down, adding that he was working towards the establishment of a better school system. Later in the meeting he said, "If I feel one child in our school system is being discriminated against I'm going to holler."

"If you are going to be mad, be mad at me!"

After asking Counselor Kennedy to summarize her duties, Woodrow Ladner asked if the children of the school were left to decide their own vocation or were they directed.

Kennedy replied that he knew as well as she did that (you) cannot make a child do anything.

Ladner bore down on the movement of graduates from the school directly to senior college, as opposed to Pearl River Junior College, a step accepted by most from HNC.

After hearing that at least one such graduate had entered the senior college system, Ladner was told that "...it is cheaper to go to Pearl River."

The board member then questioned the student counselor on why so many levels of education existed in the school system, to which she responded that such was an administrative decision and not part of her duties.

She said her job was to try to assist each child with his or her future and certainly not that of determining whether or not he or she was ready for college.

Switching his questions to Librarian Barbara Kinnebrew, Ladner asked the hour of the library and the procedure for students to follow to attend the library - particularly for research, and whether or not they (the students) had been refused permission to use the facility.

Librarian Kinnebrew clearly responded that students following procedure had no trouble in using and enjoying the library.

She said the student must have a permission slip from a teacher showing the librarian he was where he was supposed to be.

"Some of the students just go to the library to talk or meet other people," she said. "I want the library to be used."

"I do not want the books to gather dust, but if the students do not cooperate I send them back to where they should be."

"All I ask is that they have a ticket from their teacher letting me know they (the students) have work to do."

James O'Hara, principal, North Central, joined in the discussion, and told Ladner that some of the students have blamed Miss Kinnebrew for their own shortcomings.

"They cannot just say they don't like physical education or study hall so they try to cram into the library."

"We have had books destroyed recently in the library by people cutting out all the pages with a razor blade and then putting the book back on the shelf."

"I told the librarian to have all students to sign in and out so that we can see who's been in there."

Ladner then claimed he had been told the library could only be used by special classes at special times.

O'Hara took the floor once again and said that when the library is being used by an entire class, such as a civics class, for research, every seat is taken and there is just no room left for additional students.

"As regards to its usage by students on study hall, I have asked the librarian obtain two slips per student, one from the teacher asking for the research, and the other from the teacher giving permission for the student to visit the library," O'Hara explained.

Then turning to math teacher Page, Ladner questioned the teaching of knitting over old fashioned thermos and the like. And also whether or not she utilized unwarranted bursts of temper during class.

Ms. Page challenged Ladner concerning her classroom ability saying that she feels she is a pretty contentious teacher and that if he did not believe it then just ask her!

Concerning a query as to whether or not discipline problems with bigger students had arisen, causing her to take it out on the rest of the class, Ms. Page responded that she has a "short voice." My voice carries and as they have moved me into a smaller classroom trailer it bounces off the walls. As it is I try to keep it down to a shout."

The needlework and knitting incident Ms. Page recalled stemmed from a couple of classes backing up to the Christmas holidays when the kids were not too interested in mathematics or geometry anyway.

"I use different teaching techniques to try and both maintain a higher level of interest and determine the extent of the student's subject comprehension."

"The needlework utilized geometric form in addition to providing something different."

"I give a test every day after I have been explaining something. This makes them listen better."

Ladner's big complaint against the coaching staff, it was revealed, came from having observed elementary school team members confined to the bench throughout the game, even though the score was 25, 30, or 40-0.

"Cannot this program be worked where every child is given a chance to do or don't in their own way?" he asked.

"I have attended games where even when we are 50 or 60 points ahead, there are kids, sitting on the bench all kitted out, but never given chance to play."

"I don't see where winning, particularly in the elementary school, is more important than developing skills."

"It is your responsibility to see that every child is given an equal opportunity to play that sport."

Coach Roland Ladner responded by saying that the condition can only be corrected if a chain of command is established.

"Let us face facts," he said, "both the players and the coaches are young and ambitious."

"The assistant coaches have the same authority as the head coach."

"I agree with you but have been unable to do anything about it," he concluded.

Board member Louie Ladner said the new policy manual should be designed to include a complete section outlining the coaches' responsibilities and line of authority within the department.

The board generally agreed that confusion exists concerning the coaching staff.

"We have nine coaching periods which in effect means we have 15 coaches on a full time basis. Each of our nine coaches teaches four classes and coaches for one class per day at the various schools," he said.

RESTROOMS

After telling the board that he spends more time trying to keep the gymnasium clean than he does in administering the athletic program, Coach Ladner cited the lack of outdoor recreational facilities as part of the problem.

He said the bleachers were in need of replacement or extensive repair as their movement was getting more and more difficult and that since 1963 very little maintenance had been done on the building.

To apply solution to the restroom situation, at least on a temporary basis, O'Hara was asked to divert some of the attentions of his remaining janitorial staff to the gymnasium washrooms.

I operate a small business and would like some information on how I might provide a supplemental retirement plan for my employees.

You might consider a deferred compensation plan based on the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) to further fund retirement income. Funding through company-owned (not taxable to the employee) life insurance on the employee whereby a definite amount is paid each year to the employee upon retirement. Payments are not made in the employee's name... saving him liability from current income taxes. Cash values remain part of company assets. At retirement age, the insurance can be surrendered and cash value used to make retirement payments. The payments are tax-deductible by the company. Deferred compensation, as an added retirement plan, saves tax dollars for both company and employee.

Whittlin' With Whittle

By JERRY WHITTLE
ECHO MANAGING EDITOR

Sorry about that. A few comments were given concerning the absence of this column last week, but had to take a trip to Arkansas. Sure is nice to be back on the good old coast. All areas have natural beauty, or a lack of such, and there are also a notable difference in the people of any given location. Arkansas is no exception. The town was located on Lake Chicot, just across the mighty Mississippi River from Greenville, and the large body of water was created several years ago when the Mississippi River changed its course. It's nice to meet so many different types of people, but even nicer to get back home to the bay and sniff the salty air and gather sand among your toes.

A lady informed us the parking problems along Main Street have been present for some time. She said years ago the street was one way and the sidewalk parking was not a problem. However, as time drifted by, the street was opened to two way traffic and the parking situation became a problem for those trying to find a place to stop and conduct their business. It is also necessary for large trucks to service stores and shops along Main Street. Additional thoughts...some how, some way, there needs to be city and/or county parking provided for people who have to shop or conduct business in the area. Wonder what would happen if an illegally parked car (on the sidewalk) were struck by another vehicle? Sure would make for an interesting lawsuit. Now, don't go down and run into another car just to test the matter!

Well, the old hat stays on this time and roses are in order for the fine job of fixing the railroad crossing near the city hall. You can now travel the sidewalk without fear of falling and breaking your neck.

Did you know? There is no longer a stop sign at the corner of Court and S. Second Street. There use to be, but it has disappeared for some reason or other. We sure hope someone did not remove the sign as a decoration for their wall.

Now that the candidates are lining up for the city election, we feel it would be a service to the public for someone to sponsor a political forum which would enable the voters to meet and question their candidates. Side light...a rally was sponsored last weekend by the PTO at OLA but only one invited candidate showed up to speak!

Several months back, you received your ECHO on Thursdays via the mail. Since that time we switched to a carrier service and it is normally Thursday afternoon when the delivery is made. Come next Thursday (the 28th of April) your ECHO will be delivered to your house on Thursday morning...early.

Daylight Savings Time starts this coming Sunday morning at 2 a.m. Don't forget to set your clock ahead one hour when you hit the sack Saturday night. One thing we've always wondered. When DST rolls around in April, what do the farmers do about their morning milking chores? Does it affect the cows? We have known some farmers who simply ignored the time change and continued on the "old time." But put yourself in the cow's place (well not really). What would you think if Old McDonald came strolling out an hour earlier and proceeded to go about his business. Would tend to cause some confusion. And wonder if the chickens get "fed up" receiving their meal an hour ahead of time? Maybe we could conduct an interview with a few barnyard residents and get their reactions to DST.

Roads, roads...they're always giving us trouble, but two different situations have been discussed recently that really need our attention. First, we read with interest the Letter to the Editor in last week's issue of the ECHO. The letter was from a gentleman who had run afoul with Hwy. 90 just east of Henderson Point. The problem concerned the lack of drainage at the spot where this man had wrecked his car. We can sure join this gentleman in his complaint because we also had the same problem several months ago at the same location. Luckily, no other cars were around at the time or there might have been a serious accident. As it was, just minor damage to the car and a few bumps and bruises. Another problem is up in the Kiln on the road that runs from Kiln to Delisle. A great part of the road, which is in Hancock County, remains unpaved and the folks are getting mighty tired of eating dust and fighting mud. We have made several trips along the dusty road and it is extremely bad. The dusty road was one of the first problems mentioned in this column. Now the folks who are suffering are to the breaking point...they want something done! And we don't blame 'em.

Have a nice day.

Regulating

What recourse does a citizen have when federal regulatory red tape threatens to smother him as a businessman or an individual?

If you are one of those grasping for the air of continued economic privilege, then you may be interested in some of the answers to this question put to Mississippi Congressman, David Bowen at Mississippi State University recently during a quarterly session of the Association of Mississippi Agricultural Organizations.

The fluent congressman runs into the question often and readily admits its a tough one capable of no simple pat solution. It amounts to the executive arm of the mighty United States government versus a citizen or group of citizens -- and the occasional arm-wrestling bit is a one-sided affair obviously decided by the collective muscle of the executive branch.

Among the federal executive agencies that have gotten into the bullying business lately -- as far as agriculture is concerned -- are the Environmental Protection Agency and the Occupational, Safety and Health Act administrators known as EPA and OSHA.

These are the guys who are not elected to office but are Civil Service employees responsive neither to Congress nor the citizenry, but to their bosses somewhat safely ensconced in federal bureaus run by political appointees. And though we would presume that they are dedicated to professionalism within their jobs, they nevertheless are immune from such standards as packaging products that the public wants to buy, or pleasing the public or getting kicked out of office.

These latter two immunities from the norm of the American way are creating untold problems for the private sector as these "bureaucrats" generate regulations that extend far beyond the basic laws passed by constitutional government.

Rep. Bowen indicated that it simply does not work for Congress itself to try to bring legislative relief from vast administrative bungling. Already, the Congressman said, there is no way for a congressman to keep informed on all subjects in governmental affairs. And to try to bring relief from this regulation or that through Congressional action would be impossible.

Yet there are two ways that were pointed out by the Congressman for the citizen to seek relief. The first is simply to contact his Congressman and state the problem, what he feels should be done, and ask his representative to take whatever action is appropriate to correct the situation if it is one that truly needs correction. Bowen said he often writes letters or communicates directly with the agency heads about the matter. And often gets help.

Public hearings on proposed regulations by federal agencies are regularly announced in the FEDERAL REGISTER and through news releases.

Such hearings, subject matter, times and places are shared with the public and all interested parties are invited to either attend the hearings or present written statements through the hearing clerks whose addresses are given in the news releases. Of course this is a good and valid system and definitely does give voice to the individual citizen BEFORE certain regulations are put into effect. So in this case, if you don't put up you should shut up!

Possibly the biggest irritant in today's field of over-regulation is the lack of consideration of such important cautions as economic impact statements. There's no better example than the current stir over OSHA's edict to sharply reduce the amount of dust in cotton gins -- clearly a case of the cure being worse than the disease. The knowledgeable Delta Council asserts that the cure program is too costly for Mississippi gins to comply with.

Washington Report

by Rep. Trent Lott

GOOD NEWS, BAD NEWS

During the Easter recess of the Congress, I had the opportunity to travel around the Fifth District. Many Mississippians asked me how I generally felt about the Congress and the Administration's actions thus far this year, and my response was "good news, bad news."

A lot of the good news revolves around the growing opposition to federal bureaucracy. On April 4 the House of Representatives considered controversial legislation to control debt collection practices throughout the country. The bill's opponents argued that it represents another attempt to take away the powers of the individual states, since 38 states already have such laws. Furthermore, they cited the growing tendency of Congress to regulate all types of financial endeavors, thereby creating problems for free enterprise.

Though the measure ultimately passed, it was obvious that these arguments hit home with many legislators, since the vote was a squeaker, 159-183.

The following day, the Congress once again showed a desire to exercise control over the bureaucracy by giving itself veto power over rules to implement the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments. This bill represents the eleventh time in the past 3 years that Congress has granted itself such veto power.

However encouraging these indicators may be, they have been coupled with some disturbing developments.

The Administration has recently endorsed the creation of a Consumer Protection Agency. If it is modeled after the one authorized in the bill passed last Congress but vetoed by former President Ford, it will duplicate the functions of over a dozen existing federal bodies. Proponents of the bill here in the Congress say they hope to have legislation passed and on the President's desk for his signature by July 1.

In reviewing these contradictory developments regarding reductions in the bureaucracy, I am reminded of an observation made recently by my friend, Honorable Bill Archer of Texas. In his service on the White House Task Force on Regulatory Reform, he and his colleagues worked diligently toward abolishing federal agencies and regulations and felt they were meeting with a fair amount of success.

Unfortunately, however, at the end of the year, the Task Force discovered that the Congress had already created more regulations and more agencies than the Task Force had been able to abolish.

Even more frightening is a statistic revealed last week showing that the Department of Agriculture has one bureaucrat for every 34 American farmers.

The Congress has given the President the governmental reorganization authority he requested. I, for one, am hopeful that he means what he says.

The people I had a chance to talk with in South Mississippi strongly agreed that, in terms of the size of our federal bureaucracy and our nation's future good, least is definitely best.

COUNCIL

to the definition of "immediately." Bennett then suggested, "I would recommend a week." Mayor Warren Carver suggested a "10 day period," which was agreed upon by the council and the motion passed unanimously.

The controversy over the mobile home was brought to light several weeks ago and has been a topic for discussion at the last meetings.

A resident in the area where the mobile home is located informed the ECHO last week she received a letter from Mayor Carver stating the information concerning the lot belonging to Poillon had been given to the city attorney for the purpose of correcting the problem caused by the lot not having been subdivided according to city ordinance and that the matter would try to be cleared as soon as possible.

At the Monday council meeting, Triche presented the minutes of the P and Z Commission meeting of the 7th.

The purpose of the meeting was to grant permission for the placing of a mobile home on a temporary basis until the construction of a new home is completed. The mobile home is located on Lot 24, Bougie Claim, Green Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis, and is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Poillon. Said lot is located in an R-1 district.

Poppy day will be observed today in Waveland through the efforts of the American Legion Auxiliary Post 77 in Waveland. Members of the auxiliary and junior members will be at various locations in Waveland to sell the Buddy Poppy in honor of those who have served their country. Here Waveland Mayor John Longo discusses the proclamation with Mrs. Theresa Hubert left Poppy chairman and Mrs. Lois Kothmann.

Triche read the portions of the Zoning Ordinance applicable to mobile homes. These can be found on pages 6, 7 and 14G of the Zoning Ordinance adopted on May 4, 1976.

W. W. Webre, Commission

member, informed Poillon that there is no provision in the Zoning Ordinance for placing a mobile home in the city limits other than in a mobile home park. He also stated that it is violation of the ordinance to put a mobile home in a residential district.

Poillon stated that he was told before he purchased the mobile home that he could not put it in the city limits, but he "asked the officials and no one corrected me and told me I could not put it there."

Poillon purchased a portion of Lot 24 which he determined the size to be 125 feet x 125 feet. Another portion was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Fouasson on which their house is located. The seller allocated 50 feet for ingress and egress purposes to the Fouasson home and Mayor Carver cut a road for this purpose, thus making Poillon's property a corner lot.

At this point, it was brought out that no plat had been filed for a subdivision by the seller. Webre then stated that if it were subdivided and the plat was not filed, it is an illegal subdivision.

Triche informed Poillon that he cannot get a building permit until the seller files the plat, the reason being that there is already one principal building erected on the lot of record (reference Page II - Zoning ordinance).

The following citizens are opposed to having a mobile home in that area: John Chevis; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schindler; Mrs. Clifton Piazza; Mrs. Edris Stechmann; Teddy Stechmann, Jr.; Clarence Schindler; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Vairin, Jr. All of the above were attendance at the meeting and all voiced their opposition.

After a lengthy discussion, Webre made a motion, seconded by Seuzeneau, that in view of the fact that they found no provision within the framework of the zoning ordinance for the placement of a mobile home in a residential area, after considering that certain alternatives existed, that for reasons stated above, permission not be granted to place a mobile home in an R-1 residential district; and, whereas, evidence presented at the Commission hearing indicates the subdivision of lands in this particular district is in violation of the subdivision regulations which require the filing of a plat, that the City of Bay St. Louis now require that a subdivision plat be filed in conformance with the subdivision regulations of record in the City of Bay St. Louis. All voted yea. Motion carried unanimously.

In another matter, the council gave approval for the Commission to purchase a copy of a zoning map and various office supplies.

Attorney William Frisbie met with the council and notified the members that subpoenas would be forthcoming in May concerning a question as to the procedure of the council in removing property from the tax rolls.

The council was informed they should be receiving authorization shortly to advertise for bids on the Main Street Project. The undertaking is a federal-local funding project for some $170,000 in improvement to the area on Main from Hwy. 90 to St. Francis Street. Seventy percent of the project is from federal funds, the remainder is locally funded.

Kantcha Ketchum

by L. S. (Dec) Elliott

The only fishing which is good right now is perch fishing. They are being caught most everywhere, mostly with crickets, with worms and dead shrimp. The perch are spawning now. So are bass.

Sale water fishing is still not too hot. A few flounders and red fish are being caught occasionally. Hate to report that most of the water in our rivers and bayous is still on the bad side. Jourdan River without any more rain should clear up pretty fast. Caught a few bass Wednesday in the river near the I-10 bridge. Understand that the water in Totten Bayou is fair and that plenty of perch and shiner-crackers are being caught.

When using baits like worms, crickets and minnows, the water can be a little on the shady side and they still bite.

Talking to those who fish for perch, crickets are the best bait right now. They can be bought at most all tackle shops. They are a little expensive, but are worth it.

Fly fishing and casting for bass is getting better but we still need falling tides in the afternoon to make this type of fishing perfect. Alden Mouffray and myself had a fair catch of bass Wednesday afternoon. Had to fish hard to get what we got. Tides will be better next week.

Most folks don't like frogging. Why, because they have never tried it. Was talking to Ellis Cuevas. He said he and his buddies caught plenty of frogs last week. Where he wouldn't tell me. He's smart, save the best places for yourself. Frogging is a good sport. Frogs are gotten with a headlight and a hand cracker or spear. A hand cracker is preferable. Frogs can be caught in all shallow lakes, road side ditches or all pot holes. Frog legs are mighty good eating too.

Put over our boat at Sangre-La fishing camp on Highway 90 at Bayou Cowan. The camp is run by Mrs. Lawson. She rents boats, has a couple of pool tables for those who like pool. Bayou Cowan has excellent fishing for bass and perch. It runs into Mulatto Bayou. Right now the water is a little on the muddy side but should clear up shortly.

After a long time no see, met Argle, Mitch, Mitchell and Jim Hyde fishing for perch. They had an ice box full of blue crabs. Claimed they caught them on crickets. Crickets must be the main bait now. They were in the trusty of Louisiana.

Met a wonderful young man, James McKinley. James does a little fishing himself but is also ready to give us old guys a helping hand. He is great in putting over boats, unloading fishing equipment. An exceptional young man. Thanks, James.

It is with deep regret I announce the death of George P. Seuzeneau which occurred last week. Pops was a member of the old school, a real sport, a friend of everyone and a fisherman. Sympathy is extended to the family. Think he was 89.

Can't get going on soft crabs. Must not have any. Talked to Henry Lang and others of our best crabbers and they report no good catches. May be they will come in later. A few soft crabs can be caught all summer. But March and April are the best months for getting them. Hard crabs are even scarce, to get soft crabs, there must be hard crabs. That is how soft crabs are made during the shedding period. Let's hope the season will get better.

Jimmy Shoemaker, one of our younger fishermen, when asked about fishing, said as most others, it is no good right now. He went Saturday and caught only a few crabs.

Wayne Alliston strictly fly fisher, can reported not doing too good with the green trout. Don't know the reason he said.

The only place we found clear water in the Pearl River area was at the head of Black Bayou and Mills Bayou. Pearl River proper is really dirty and high. Caught bass and perch on the fly rod. The perch were of exceptional size, mostly Blue Gills. The bass were small but keepable.

If you want to catch perch right now go to these places and still fish with worms, crickets or live minnows. We think a fly rod with a black knot and spinner will catch all the perch you need. When using a spinner let it sink deep and retrieve slowly. This is also a wonderful bait for Sac-a-Lait when fishing among tree tops or other sunken objects.

You guys that catfish. Did you know that small perch are a perfect bait for catching them. Small perch can be caught anywhere there is water. Use earth worms and a small hook, their mouths are small. A minnow trap is good for catching minnows, bait it with bread. Pot bellied minnows will catch perch, bass and most any kind of fish.

Pass ups record to 11-1

Pass Christian upped its season record to 11-1 as they rolled past Pearl River in a baseball game played on Tuesday night.

Jack Ulrich was the hero of the day driving in six runs with a double, a sacrifice, and two singles.

Charles Wahl went the distance for the Pirates as he mastered the mound yielding only three hits, striking out six, and walking only one.

Pass will play Bay High today at 4 p.m. at the Tiger field in Bay St. Louis.

After shopping New Orleans I talked to Don Cooper at Turan-Lane in Bay St. Louis. ## Training Council hears Early

The Leader Training and Council met in the auditorium April 7. Wayne Early, Director of Mississippi State Board of Health, Crippled Children Foundation, gave a brief talk, then conducted a question and answer period.
The purpose of this organization is to locate crippled children or those who may have conditions leading to crippling and to correct or reduce physical handicaps or deformities. Anyone from birth to 2 years of age is eligible for this service if he or she is a resident of Mississippi, regardless of race, color or national origin and, if the families of these children are unable to pay for private care. This organization operates on a limited budget but 90 percent of monies received is used for services rendered and only 10 percent for administrative purposes. Anyone needing the services of this organization can contact the County Health Department.

Mrs. Norine Bar presented the program, "Food with a Foreign Flavor," by showing a film on Latin American foods.
Mrs. Gloria Holmes conducted a short business session, after which refreshments were served by the Bay St. Louis Club.

DIANNE HOLLIS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah W. Hollis of Bay St. Louis and a freshman at Pearl River Junior College has been elected President of the Junior College Student Council Association of Mississippi. Miss Hollis, an accounting major, is a freshman class major and was named freshman class favorite. She will head the 16 school SCAM Conventions during the 1977-78 school year.

From the Revolutionary War through June 1976, the United States expended $258.2 billion for benefits and services to America's veterans, their dependents and survivors. World War I veterans and their survivors have been the beneficiaries of $60.4 billion of these expenditures.

There are 800,000 living World War I veterans, who average 82 years of age.

Winterization program announced by CEPA

Coast Electric Power Association, in cooperative agreement with the Farmers Home Administration, announces "The Rural Home Weatherization Program". A program designed to help low and moderate income rural families weatherize their homes in order to save energy and reduce heating and cooling costs. A significant secondary benefit of the Rural Home Weatherization Program will be the stimulus it gives to local economies by generating additional business and creating jobs. Local contractors and workmen will be employed to do the actual weatherization work. Materials used in the weatherization work will be purchased from local suppliers to the extent possible. Home owners living in rural areas, with adjusted gross incomes of 15,600 dollars or less and members of Coast Electric, are eligible for this Program. Loans up to $1500, with repayment schedules as long as five years, are available. The loan repayment is billed and received with members' electric bills. The rate of interest is based on existing FmHA interest rates of 8 percent and as provided to the Cooperative monthly. Coast Electric has become the first rural electric system in Mississippi to execute agreements with Farmers Home Administration to provide this service to its members. Henry Thomas, Coast Electric's General Manager, expressed his strong belief in this program as a positive way for members to improve the efficiency of their homes, and to eliminate energy waste while reducing costs. He stated that this program is a major breakthrough in the elimination of red tape. An applicant for a weatherization loan has a minimum amount of paper work to complete, and the program may be started quickly. The Cooperative will assist the member in loan application work, securing contractors, paying contractors (after work is completed and approved) and arranging a repayment schedule for the member. Present plans are to begin making loans under this program on May 1, 1977. Members are encouraged to watch for further information and announcements.

Social Security Bulletin

Students and other people who plan to get a summer job should apply immediately for a social security number if they don't have one, according to Caril V. Stephens, social security acting district manager in Gulfport.

"You should apply for your number several weeks before you need it for a job covered by social security," Stephens said. "Applications must be screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure that a second number isn't issued to that same person. Screening generally takes several weeks."

"Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," he said. "A worker builds retirement, disability, survivors, and Medicare protection by work and earnings credited to his social security card to his."

It's a nice place to visit, but...

Now residents are asking, and not patiently any longer, that some relief be afforded them... the numerous wrongs involving the road construction (or the lack of such). In talking

"It's a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't want to live there." You've heard that expression numerous times when people describe a certain area. The residents along the Kiln to Delisle Road in the northern end of Hancock County have no other choice. True, it is a nice place to visit, but they have to live there...it's their home!

So what's the problem? That question can be answered in one simple sentence: the dusty, unfinished, unpaved, undrained roadway!

with residents of the area, we learned of several health problem which are compounded by the conditions of the road. The dust is unbelievable. When it rains, mud is an additional problem in driveways.

One lady told us the residents are preparing a petition in an effort to get some action started. In another development, County Engineer Lawrence Seal has written Alabama Waterproofing Co., Inc., the project contractor, in an effort to get some results on the road construction.

The road is heavily traveled and something needs to be done in order for the residents of the area to receive much needed relief.

And then, "it will be a nice place to live."

classes are still open

It's not too late to join the Boating Skills and Seamanship classes being given by Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 33, every Friday evening at 7 p.m., at Diamondhead, Fairway Villa, Room 1.

Do you know that an anchor should always be lowered, never thrown? Do you know how to use the proper signals when passing or overtaking another boat? Do you know that you are responsible for damages caused by your wake? These are a few of many safe boating skills you will learn if you and your family attend these interesting and possibly life-saving sessions. Bring the youngsters, they are the good skippers of the future.

These classes are free and open to the public.

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS:

The following is a background of my experience in governmental and civic affairs which I believe qualifies me to serve as mayor under the recently adopted mayor-council form of government.

I began my career by serving as deputy clerk of the chancery and circuit courts of Hancock County for a period of five years. After completing a (correspondence) course in accounting from LaSalle Extension University of Chicago, I was offered and I accepted a position with the Mississippi State Department of Audit as one of twenty field inspectors responsible for making detailed audits of Boards of Supervisors and State institutions throughout Mississippi. I retained that position for seven years and left to serve three years in Europe during World War II. Upon my return to civilian life, I joined two partners in a business enterprise in Bay St. Louis which continues to operate successfully today.

In 1949 I was elected mayor of this community and served 4½ years. Following that term I did not choose to run for re-election. In 1969 I ran successfully for the mayor's office and was re-elected in 1973.

Being involved in civic affairs has always been important to me. I was a member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce for a long number of years and served as its president for a one-year term. For seven years I was president of the Hancock County Retarded Children's Association. During that time and with the help of a number of fine people, a private school for these children was founded.

For a number of years I have been a member of the Board of Directors of the Mississippi Children's Home Society whose headquarters are in Jackson. I have served as a member of the Parish Council of Our Lady of the Gulf Church. I am a member of American Legion Post No. 139, Theo. S. Price Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. At the present time I am Chairman of the local Chapter of the American Red Cross. I recently suggested to the Bay St. Louis Fire Department that they should sponsor a scout troop. This resulted in the formation of Scout Troop No. 632, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Fire Department.

During the period of racial unrest in the 1960's, I realized the need for establishing a dialogue between the white and the black communities within our city. With the help of a number of dedicated people, the Hancock County Human Relations Council was formed. The Council served the community well during its lifetime.

In 1972, I nominated Mrs. Arnette Giles (now deceased) of Pearllington as a person who should be considered for recognition by the Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA). For her work with foster children, some of whom were mentally retarded, Mrs. Giles was awarded first place honors by VISTA and brought national recognition to the community.

I respectfully submit the above to you for your consideration in electing a mayor for the next four years.

Very sincerely,
Warren Carver

Mrs. Hutar of Glenview, Illinois, has been involved in women's activities for several years. She has been a member of the Presidential Task Force on Women's Rights and in 1974 was U.S. Representative to the United Nations Commission on Status of Women. The women will tour the famous Lauren Rogers Museum and the convention will close with an open house at the country home of Charles Pickering, State Republican Party Chairman.

Attending from Hancock County will be: Mrs. Life, Mrs. Fred Wagner, Mrs. John McPhail, Mrs. Pere Cabib, Mrs. Elva Buran and Mrs. Carl Gustafson.

PLAN BEFORE REMODELING

Many families are deciding to remodel the house they live in, rather than buying or building a new house. Remodeling is one way to solve housing problems and is less expensive than a new house.

However, don't rush into remodeling. Plan carefully and consult professionals to avoid mistakes and heartaches.

Remodeling requires thoughtful planning. So before you or the contractor begin, decide what has to be done, how much it will cost and whether you have the patience to survive a remodeling.

Use existing space, if possible. It costs about half the cost of building from scratch, while adding on costs about one and one-half times the price per square foot for a new house. Cover up rather than tear out if you possibly can. Building materials will hide many scars and problems. Give the contractor details, that is scale drawings with specifications, and have him sign a contract. Don't change your mind after the work is under way and expect the contractor to make the changes for free.

There are several sources of money for remodeling. Banks and savings and loan agencies. Farmers Home Administration has programs for families that qualify; ask the local FmHA Supervisor. HUD insured loans are available from Federal Housing Authority approved lenders.

Consider these two rules of thumb when remodeling. Don't put over 70 percent of the house's value into remodeling. Also, don't obligate more of your income to paying the mortgage, utilities, taxes and insurance than you can comfortably manage, usually about 25 percent of your monthly take-home pay.

CONSIDER FLUORESCENT LIGHTING WHEN REMODELING

If you're remodeling your home or building a new house, consider using fluorescent lighting. It's much more efficient than incandescent.

A 40-watt fluorescent bulb produces 3,100 lumens or light output, while a 100-watt incandescent bulb puts out only 1,750. You get twice as much light at half the cost, and the fluorescent tube lasts 7 to 10 times longer.

Don't worry about the unflattering color of fluorescent lighting. You can get warm white colors designed to be flattering to people and compatible to home decorations. Avoid tubes that make the surroundings look washed out and cold.

CHARLOTT MAN DRAWS 3-YEAR JAIL TERM FOR SSI FRAUD

J.W. Forney of 2822 Burbank Drive, Charlotte, was sentenced today to serve 3 years in a federal penitentiary for defrauding the federally administered Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program out of $7,467.30 between January 1974 and October 1976. The penalty is the stiffest one yet meted out in a recent series of SSI fraud convictions in North Carolina and throughout the Southeastern United States.

The 37-year old Forney had been charged with three counts of having made false statements calculated to conceal his income, the correct reporting of which is a requirement of SSI beneficiaries. Forney, who was sentenced by U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow W. Jones, had entered a plea of guilty to one of the charges.

Forney was receiving SSI benefits as a disability beneficiary whose case had been converted after December 1973 from the state welfare rolls to federal administration beginning January 1974. Assistant U.S. Attorney Phil Kelly established that Forney had average earnings of $550 per month throughout 1974, and earnings for most of the months of 1975 and 1976.

though alleging in signed statements on three occasions that he had no earned income.

Forney is the third North Carolina resident to have been convicted of SSI fraud since early this year. Brenda S. Bass of Greensboro and Margie Stewart of Micro were previously convicted. In all, 8 residents of Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina have been convicted.

THE OLE PASTOR SAYS...

A DEVOTIONAL COMMENTARY

QUITE OFTEN you hear some one say, "Our preacher never stops to visit our home."

If this is true, you probably have much for which to be thankful. It usually means that death has not struck; that no serious illnesses have laid low members of your family; or the surgeon's knife has not threatened you; or that you have no serious problems for the moment; or that you are not really a spiritually delinquent child of God. As a rule, pastors do not make many "social" calls. Having so many more important matters which need their attention, they just do not have the time. They would enjoy such social calls and times of leisurely fellowship, but there are simply not enough hours in the day. In near 38 years of pastoral work, I have never come near "catching up" with my work.

But, be sure of this: your pastor, if he is truly God's man, is willing to come at any hour of the day or night that you call him for help - for the moment, thank God that you have not needed him - someday you will and he will be there. Doubtless there are a very few days that pass that you are not remembered in his prayers.

In justice to this man you call your pastor, be as fair with him as you would with others. You call your doctor, or the repairman when you need them. Let your pastor know when he is really needed. He is not a mind-reader, and as we have tried to point out, He is a busy man. - L.S. Walker

CONTROL BROADLEAF PASTURE WEEDS

Broadleaf weeds in pastures compete with desirable plants for moisture and fertilizer. Weeds are easier to kill if sprayed early in the season before plants become two inches high. The recommended rate is one pound of 2-4-D, or one to two pints of 2-4-D plus Banvel D mixtures. If legumes are present, do not spray until the annual legumes have gone to seed. If white clover is present, one-half pound of 2-4-D is recommended. Banvel should not be used on perennial legumes since the material will easily kill clovers and legumes.

HARVEST

EXCESS RYEGRASS
Farmers who have extra rye grass should remove cattle from some of the pasture and let it grow for hay. Removing cattle by April 20 will allow a good harvest by late May. Up to one and one-half tons hay

Winchester

has retired from NOAA

James W. Winchester, Director of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Data Buoy Office, located at the National Space Technology Laboratories, Bay St. Louis, has announced his retirement, effective May 7.

Winchester has served as Director since February 16, 1972. During this time, the program has grown from its initial research and development phase to one that now has operational moored buoys in the Gulf of Mexico, Gulf of Alaska, and in both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. In addition to the moored buoys, more than 100 drifting buoys have been deployed at many oceanic locations off the coasts of the United States, Europe, Africa, Australia, and Antarctica.

Prior to his appointment as Director of the NOAA Data Buoy Office, Winchester was vice president-general manager of Oceanographic Services, Inc., Santa Barbara, California. He was previously employed by the Federal Government in the Office of Naval Research in Washington, D.C., and served as a naval officer during both World War II and the Korean War.

The Winchesters will continue to reside, at least for a while, in Pass Christian. Winchester expects to form a company to provide consulting services to industry on formulating and managing data acquisition and scientific programs for understanding and protecting the marine environment.

DISPOSE OF CHEMICAL CONTAINERS

Dispose of all non-recyclable chemical drums, bags, boxes and bottles properly. They contain harmful residues and should be crushed, burned and then disposed of in a disposal site established for this purpose. Establish a disposal pit, then fence it and put up danger signs. The pits should be in a heavy clay soil area in a location not subject to flooding.

Remove all tops, caps and bungs from containers. Crush containers with a crawler type tractor if possible. If not, cut several slits in them. Then burn the containers, but do not stand near the pit during burning because the chemical will give off poisonous fumes. There may also be an explosion. After using a pit three to four seasons, cover it and establish a new one.

ERADICATE BRUCELLOSIS

Brucellosis, commonly called Bang's disease, has been a nagging and costly problem for Mississippi's Livestock Industry for 40 years. Brucellosis causes aborted pregnancies, failure of animals to breed and reduction of milk production. Farmers who haven't had their young animals vacinated for brucellosis should do so as soon as possible. Vaccinate calves when they are between three and nine months old. The only way to get rid of brucellosis in the state is with calfhood vaccination.

Pass Pirates win district crown

The Pirates of Pass Christian posted a 7-3 victory over East Central last Saturday to capture the Southern District Eight, Class A, high school baseball championship. The win was the second straight District championship the Pirates have won in the past two seasons. The game was played at East Central.

Jack Ulrich paced the win with a 3 hitter on the mound and added 2 hits in 3 trips to the plate. One of his hits was a 2 run homer in the 1st inning. His shot was followed with a solo homer by Paul Stewart.

Myron Cook continued his hot hitting with a perfect 3 for 3 performance and scored 2 runs. Cook carries a season batting average of .600.

East Central's only scoring came in the 3rd inning when Daryl Clark hit a 3 run homer. Ulrich kept his perfect pitching record in tact as he won his 4th of the season. He allowed 3 hits, struck out 8 and walked 5. James Faggard took the loss.

UM BUREAU STUDIES MIGRANT PROGRAMS

A new migrant evaluation report compiled by the Ole Miss Bureau of Educational Research for the State Education Department indicates that Mississippi's public schools are serving about 1,000 more migrant students than in 1975. The study, directed by Bureau director Dr. Bob Cage, examined the 13 local migrant education programs and their 5,535 students, which increased after the federal government recognized fishermen as migrants. Mississippi receives $2 million for migrant education through a federally funded project.

Art Exhibit now on display at the library

The Art Exhibit now hanging in the Crawford Room of the Bay St. Louis Library can be best described in one word - beautiful! A wealth of talent is displayed for the interested public to view. Although the exhibit is limited solely to artists who are residents of Hancock County, it is unlimited in both talent and scope. Nearly 30 local artists from Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Kiln, Pearllington and Diamondhead loaned several of their paintings for the exhibit, which is the first of a week of cultural events in honor of National Library Week.

Mrs. L. J. Lewis, a talented artist herself, was chairman of the event, and has put together a really terrific show. She urges all who did not view it on Sunday, the opening night, to come see it before the end of the week. She further points out that never before has so much talent been displayed on one place in Bay St. Louis because there was no facility available that could handle so many paintings.

A reception under the sponsorship of Friends of the Library, was given along with the Art Exhibit, with Mrs.

Lelyn Nybo in charge of arrangements. The table, in the center of the Crawford Room, was laid with a pale grey cloth and yellow tapers in silver candlesticks blended with the pastel colors of the floral centerpiece. Tea girls helping serve delicious refreshments were Mary Trombley and Lisa Kern. Serving as hostesses at the reception were Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, chairman of National Library Week, Mrs. Fred McDonald, chairman of the Library Board of Trustees, Mrs. Lloyd Griffith, and Mrs. Nicholas Haas, past chairman of the Board. Mrs. Louise Lynch and Mrs. D. O. Trombley, members of the Board. Mrs. Prina Wusack of the Library Staff and Mrs. P. Oakes, president of the Friends of the Library.

Artists who have allowed their work to be shown: L. Abrams, Cecile Grice, Coral Strasburger, Willie Solomon, Jean Van Peski, Carrie Mills Pritchett, Sara Dodge Kimbrough, Carl Baldenhofer, Earlene Russo, Charles Dickinson, Karen Carapetian, Ruth Lewis, Margaret de Loo, Shirley Burman, Carol Miller, John Isom, Irene Davis, Nadine Stamm, Walker Keen, Dot Copeland, Dot Russell, Lucille Morrison, Heidi Taylor, Marion Elliott, Nell Ducomb, Gladys Haas and Therese Elmer.

Also being shown is the work of Hancock County's most noted artists - Pat Bannister and Will Hinds.

FLOOD CONTROL ORDINANCE HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI ORDINANCE NUMBER A-3

An Ordinance known as the Flood Control Ordinance of Hancock County, Mississippi, regulating land use and establishing control measures for special flood hazard areas in conjunction with regulations established by the Federal Insurance Administration, Department of Housing and Urban Development, for maintaining Hancock County's eligibility in the National Flood Insurance Program as printed in the Federal Register on October 26, 1976.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, that the Ordinance Number A-2, known as the Flood Control Ordinance of Hancock County, Mississippi, is hereby enacted as follows:

ARTICLE I STATUTORY AUTHORIZATION, FINDING OF FACT, PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES

Section I. Statutory Authorization. This ordinance is adopted pursuant to the authority set forth in Title 19, Chapter 5, Section 9 of the Mississippi Code of 1972, as amended.

Section II. Finding of Fact. A. The flood hazard areas of Hancock County are subject to periodic inundation which results in loss of life and property, health and safety hazards, disruption of commerce and government services, extraordinary public expenditures for flood protection and relief, and impairment of the tax base; all of which adversely affect the public health, safety and general welfare.

B. These flood losses are caused by the cumulative effect of obstructions in flood plains causing increases in flood heights and velocities, and by the occupancy in flood hazard areas by uses vulnerable to floods or hazardous to other lands which are inadequately elevated, floodproofed, or otherwise protected from flood damage.

Section III. Statement of Purpose. It is the purpose of this ordinance to promote the public health, safety and general welfare and to minimize public and private losses due to flood conditions in specific areas by provisions designed to:

- Restrict or prohibit uses which are dangerous to health, safety and property due to water or erosion hazards or which result in damaging increases in erosion or in flood heights or velocities.
- Require that uses vulnerable to floods, including facilities which serve such uses, be protected against flood damage at the time of initial construction.
- Control the alteration of natural flood plains, stream channels, and natural protective barriers which are involved in the accommodation of flood waters.
- Control filling, grading and mineral extraction which may increase erosion or flood damage.
- Prevent or regulate the construction of flood barriers which will unreasonably divert flood waters or which may increase flood hazards to other lands.

Section IV. Objectives. The objectives of this ordinance are:

- To protect human life and health;
- To minimize expenditure of public money for costly flood control projects;
- To minimize the need for rescue and relief efforts associated with flooding and generally undertaken at the expense of the general public;
- To minimize prolonged business interruptions;
- To minimize damage to public facilities and utilities such as water and gas mains; electric, telephone and sewer lines; streets and bridges located in flood plains;
- To help maintain a stable tax base by providing for the sound use and development of flood prone areas in such a manner as to minimize future flood blight areas.

ARTICLE II DEFINITIONS

Section I. Rule of Construction. For the purpose of this ordinance, certain terms or words used herein shall be interpreted as follows:

- The present tense includes the future tense, the singular number includes the plural, and the plural number includes the singular unless the text clearly indicates the contrary.
- The word shall be mandatory, the word may be permissive.
- Unless specifically defined below, words or phrases used in this ordinance shall be interpreted so as to give them the meaning they have in common usage and to give these regulations their most reasonable application.

Section II. Definitions. For the purpose of this ordinance, certain terms, words and phrases shall have the meaning hereafter defined as follows:

ADJACENT STRUCTURE. A structure which is on the same parcel of property as the principal structure to be insured and the use of which is incidental to the use of the principal structure.

AREAS OF SPECIAL FLOOD HAZARD. The lands in the flood plain within the county which are subject to a one percent or greater chance of flooding in any given year.

EXPANSION TO AN EXISTING MOBILE HOME PARK OR MOBILE HOME SUBDIVISION. The preparation of additional sites by the construction of facilities for serving the lots on which the mobile homes are to be affixed (including the installation of utilities, either final site grading or pouring of concrete pads, or the construction of streets).

FLOOD OR FLOODING. (1) A general and temporary condition of partial or complete inundation of normally dry land areas from: (a) the overflow of inland or tidal waters; (b) the unusual and rapid accumulation or runoff of surface waters from any source; (2) The collapse or subsidence of land along the shore of a lake or other body of water as a result of erosion or undermining caused by waves or currents of water exceeding anticipated cyclical levels or suddenly caused by an unusually high water level in a natural body of water, accompanied by a severe storm or by an unanticipated force of nature, such as a flash flood or an abnormal tidal surge, or by some similarly unusual event which results in flooding as defined in (a) above.

FLOOD PLAIN OR FLOOD PRONE AREA. Any land area susceptible to being inundated by water from any source (see definition of "flooding").

MOBILE HOME. A structure, transportable in one or more sections, which is built on a permanent chassis and designed to be used with or without a permanent foundation when connected to the required utilities. It does not include recreation vehicles or travel trailers.

MOBILE HOME PARK OR MOBILE HOME SUBDIVISION. See "existing mobile home park or mobile home subdivision" or "new mobile home park or mobile home subdivision."

NEW CONSTRUCTION. Structure for which the "start of construction" commenced on or after the effective date of this ordinance.

REGULATORY FLOODWAY. MOBILE HOME SUBDIVISION. A parcel (or contiguous parcels) of land divided into two or more mobile home lots for rent or sale which the construction of facilities for serving the lot on which the mobile home is to be affixed (including at a minimum, the installation of utilities, either final site grading or the pouring of concrete pads, and the construction of streets) is completed on or after the effective date of this ordinance.

100 YEAR FLOOD. See "base flood."

PERSON. Any individual or group of individuals, corporation, partnership, association, or any other entity including state and local governments and agencies.

PRINCIPALLY ABOVE GROUND. At least 51 percent of the actual cash value of the structure, less land value, is above ground.

REASONABLE. The channel of a river or other watercourse and the adjacent land areas that must be reserved in order to discharge the base flood without unduly increasing the water levels above the flood plain or other designated high ground.

RIVERINE. Relating to, formed by, or resembling a river (including tributaries), stream, brook, etc.

START OF CONSTRUCTION. The first placement of permanent construction as a structure (other than a mobile home) on a site, such as the pouring of slabs or footings or any work beyond the stage of excavation. Permanent construction does not include land preparation such as clearing, grading, or filling; nor does it include the installation of streets and/or walkways; nor does it include excavation for a basement, footing, piers, or foundations or the construction of temporary forms; nor does it include the installation on the anchored or accessory buildings, collapse or lateral movement of the structure as a whole.

STRUCTURE. A building or other man-made construction which is intended to be occupied as dwelling units or not part of the main structure. For a structure (other than mobile home) constructed with materials and without a basement, the start of construction includes the first permanent C. All new construction or sub-structure shall be constructed by methods and on foundations for mobile homes not practices that minimize flood damage within a mobile home park or mobile home subdivision.

STRUCTURE. A building or other man-made construction which is intended to be occupied as dwelling units or not part of the main structure. For a structure (other than mobile home) constructed with materials and without a basement, the start of construction includes the first permanent C. All new construction or sub-structure shall be constructed by methods and on foundations for mobile homes not practices that minimize flood damage within a mobile home park or mobile home subdivision.

For a structure (other than mobile home) constructed with materials and without a basement, the start of construction includes the first permanent C. All new construction or sub-structure shall be constructed by methods and on foundations for mobile homes not practices that minimize flood damage within a mobile home park or mobile home subdivision.

For a structure (other than mobile home) constructed with materials and without a basement, the start of construction includes the first permanent C. All new construction or sub-structure shall be constructed by methods and on foundations for mobile homes not practices that minimize flood damage within a mobile home park or mobile home subdivision.

construction of facilities for serving the site on which the mobile home is to be affixed (including at a minimum, the construction of streets, either final site grading or the pouring of concrete pads and installation of utilities) is completed.

STRUCTURE. A building or other man-made construction which is intended to be occupied as dwelling units or not part of the main structure. For a structure (other than mobile home) constructed with materials and without a basement, the start of construction includes the first permanent C. All new construction or sub-structure shall be constructed by methods and on foundations for mobile homes not practices that minimize flood damage within a mobile home park or mobile home subdivision.

SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT. Any repair, reconstruction, addition or other work which results in the structure, the cost of which equals or exceeds 50 percent of the market value of the structure either (a) before the improvement or repair is started, or (b) if the structure has been damaged, and is being restored, before the damage occurred. For the purpose of this definition, "substantial improvement" is considered to occur when the first alteration of any wall, ceiling, floor or other structural part of the building commences, whether or not that alteration affects the external dimensions of the structure. The term does not, however, include either (1) any project for improvement of a structure to comply with existing state or local health, sanitary, or safety code specifications which are solely necessary to assure safe living conditions, or (2) any alteration of a structure listed on the National Register of Historic Places or a State Inventory of Historic Places.

VARIANCE. A grant of relief to a landowner from the requirements of this ordinance which permits construction in a manner otherwise prohibited by this ordinance where a specific enforcement would result in unnecessary hardship.

WATERCOURSE. Any natural lake, river, creek, cut or other natural body of water or channel having definite banks and subject to tidal influence of the flow or occurrence of water, except such lakes without outlet to which only one landowner is riparian.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section I. Lands to Which This Ordinance Applies. This ordinance shall apply to all areas of special flood hazard within the unincorporated area of Hancock County, Mississippi.

Section II. Basis for Establishing the Areas of Special Flood Hazard. The areas of special flood hazard identified by the Federal Insurance Administration in its Flood Hazard Boundary Map (FHBM), No. H-43-07, dated June 27, 1970, and any revisions thereto are adopted by reference and declared to be a part of this ordinance.

Section III. Establishment of Development Permit. A Development Permit shall be required in conformance with the provisions of this ordinance.

Section IV. Compliance. No structure or land shall hereafter be located, extended, converted, or structurally altered without full compliance with the terms of this ordinance and the applicable regulations.

Section V. Interpretation. In the interpretation and application of this ordinance, all provisions shall be:

- Considered as minimum requirements.
- Liberalized in favor of the governing body; and
- Deemed neither to limit nor repeal any other powers granted under state statutes.

Section VI. Warning and Disclaimer. The degree of flood protection required by this ordinance is considered reasonable for regulatory purposes and is based on scientific and engineering considerations. Larger floods can and will occur in rare occasions. Flood heights may be increased by man-made or natural causes. This ordinance does not imply that land outside the areas of special flood hazards or uses permitted within such areas will be free from flooding or flood damages.

This ordinance shall not create liability on the part of Hancock County or by any officer or employee thereof for any flood damages that result from reliance on this ordinance or any administrative decision lawfully made thereunder.

Section VII. Relationship to Other Laws. Whenever regulations or restrictions imposed by this ordinance are either more or less restrictive than regulations or restrictions imposed by any other governmental authority through legislation, rule or regulation, the more restrictive regulations or restrictions shall govern. Regardless of any other provision of this ordinance, no land shall be used or no structure erected or maintained in violation of any state or federal pollution control or environmental protection law or as the pouring of slabs or footings or any work beyond the stage of excavation. Permanent construction does not include land preparation such as clearing, grading, or filling; nor does it include the installation of streets and/or walkways; nor does it include excavation for a basement, footing, piers, or foundations or the construction of temporary forms; nor does it include the installation on the anchored or accessory buildings, collapse or lateral movement of the structure as a whole.

minimize or eliminate infiltration of flood water into the systems and discharges from the systems into flood waters; and

F. On areas of special flood hazard where base flood elevation data has been provided as set forth in Article III, Section II, or Article VIII, Section II(F), the following provisions are required:

A. Residential construction. New construction or substantial improvement of any residential structure shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated to or above base flood elevation.

B. Non-residential construction. New construction or substantial improvement of any commercial, industrial or other non-residential structure shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated to or above base flood elevation.

C. Mobile Homes. 1. All mobile homes shall be anchored to resist flotation, collapse, or lateral movement by providing over-the-top and frame ties to ground anchors. Specific requirements shall be that:

- Over-the-top ties be provided at each of the four corners of the mobile home, with two additional ties per side at intermediate locations and mobile homes less than 50 feet long requiring one additional tie per side;
- Frame ties be provided at each corner of the home and one additional tie per side at intermediate locations and mobile homes less than 50 feet long requiring four additional ties per side;
- All components of the anchoring system be capable of carrying a force of 4,800 lbs; and
- Any tie to the mobile home be similarly anchored.

2. For new mobile home parks and subdivisions; for existing mobile home parks and subdivisions where the repair, reconstruction or improvement of the streets, utilities and pads equals or exceeds 50 percent of the value of the streets, utilities and pads before the repair, reconstruction or improvement has commenced; and for mobile homes not placed in a mobile home park or subdivision, requirements shall be that:

- Stands or lots are elevated on concrete foundations so that the base flood elevation of the mobile home will be at or above the base flood elevation of the stand or lot;
- Additional surface drainage and access for a hauler are provided;
- In the instance of elevation on pilings:

- Lots are large enough to permit lots;
- Piling foundations are placed in stable soil no more than ten feet apart; and
- Reinforcement is provided for pilings more than six feet above the ground level.

Section III. Standards for Areas of Shallow Flooding (AO Zones). Located within the areas of special flood hazard established in Article III, Section II, are areas designated as shallow flooding. These areas have special flood hazards associated with base flood depths of one to three feet where a clearly defined channel does not exist and where the path of flooding is unpredictable and indeterminate; therefore, the following provisions apply:

A. All new construction and substantial improvements of residential structures shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated above the crown of the nearest street to or above the depth number specified on the FHBM or

B. All new construction and substantial improvements of non-residential structures shall:

- Have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated above the crown of the nearest street to or above the depth number specified on the FHBM; or
- Together with attendant utility and sanitary facilities, be completely floodproofed to or above that level so that any space below that level is watertight with walls substantially impermeable to the passage of water and with structural components having the capability of resisting hydrostatic and hydrodynamic loads effects of buoyancy.

Section IV. Standards for Subdivision Proposals. A. All subdivision proposals shall be consistent with the need to minimize flood damage.

B. All subdivision proposals shall have public utilities and facilities such as sewer, gas, electrical and water systems located and constructed to minimize flood damage.

C. All subdivision proposals shall have adequate drainage provided to reduce exposure to flood hazards.

D. Base flood elevation data shall be provided for subdivision proposals and all proposed developments which is greater than the lesser of 50 lots or five acres.

ARTICLE V. FLOODPROOFING

Section I. Minimum Floodproofing Requirements. A. Wherever any of the provisions of this ordinance require that a non-residential building be floodproofed or specify that floodproofing may be used as an alternative to elevating a structure above the base flood level, the structure, together with attendant utility and sanitary facilities, shall be designed so that below the base flood level the structure is watertight with walls substantially impermeable to the passage of water and with structural components having the capability of resisting hydrostatic and hydrodynamic loads and effects of buoyancy. Floodproofing shall be deemed to include the following:

A. Wherever possible, the location, construction and installation of all electrical and gas utility systems in such a manner as to ensure the continuing functioning of those systems in the event of a base flood;

B. The location, construction and installation of all potable water supply systems in such a manner as to prevent contamination from flood waters during the regulatory flood;

C. Approved backflow preventers or devices shall be installed on main water service lines, at water wells and at all building entry locations to protect the system from backflow or back siphonage of flood waters or other contaminants.

D. Sanitary sewer and storm drainage systems that have openings below the base flood elevation shall be equipped with automatic back-siphon valves or other automatic backflow devices that are installed in each discharge line passing through a building exterior wall.

E. Sanitary sewer systems, including septic tank systems, that are required to remain in operation during a flood, shall be provided with a sealed holding tank and the necessary isolation and diversion piping, pumps, ejectors, and appurtenances required to prevent sewage discharge during a flood. The holding tank shall be sized for storage of at least two (2) days' demand.

F. All sewer system vents shall extend an elevation above the base flood elevation.

G. A registered professional engineer or architect shall certify that any new construction or substantial improvement has been designed to withstand the depths, pressures, velocities, impact and uplift forces associated with the base flood at the location of the building and the specific elevation (in relation to mean sea level) to which such structure is floodproofed.

Section II. Approval of Floodproofing. Prior to the issuance of a permit, plans for any structure that is required to be floodproofed must be submitted to the County Engineer for approval. The County Engineer will review the plans for compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

ARTICLE VI. NON-CONFORMING USES

Section I. Continuance. A structure or the use of a structure on premises which was lawful before the passage or amendment of this ordinance but which is not in conformity with its provisions may be continued as a non-conforming use subject to the following conditions:

A. Any substantial improvement of a non-conforming structure shall be made in compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.
